

VOA News Center

Informing an estimated global audience exceeding 236 million viewers, listeners or readers around the world, who consume news coverage via radio, television, shortwave, web, mobile apps and social media, VOA's News Center maintains permanent bureaus in five continents, reporting and analyzing the major issues of our day, whether political, cultural, scientific, humanitarian, technological, economic, military, diplomatic, educational, medical, life sustaining or life threatening. VOA's News Center also works as a 24/7 news hub, directing content to and from the newsroom and all the languages services through bridge editors.
