

VOA Broadcasting in Bambara to Mali

VOA's Bambara service to Mali produces a mix of news and interactive programming for radio and the Internet. VOA Bambara programming airs through local FM transmitters in the three main cities: Bamako, Gao, and Timbuktu. The service is a reliable source of news for millions of Malians. It is also one of the main sources of independent news in the country, especially its northern parts, which are largely controlled by Tuareg separatists and Islamist groups.

Features and Programs

Tabale -- A daily morning show broadcast, every week day at 7:30 AM UTC. Tabale's goal is to be the voice millions of Malians wake up to. Hosted from our studio in Bamako, it delivers a cutting-edge mix of news, in-depth reporting and insightful interviews. A team of journalists and producers bring impartial, unbiased and up-to-date information. From Monday to Friday, Tabale tells urgent and under-reported stories with quality and depth. It also includes sports, health, economy, religion and culture segments

Mali Kura – A daily current affairs program. Using phone and face-to-face interviews, stringer and Facebook Live reports, the program covers the latest events in Mali as well as the Sahel region. Its in-depth reporting addresses some of the most complex issues in Mali and in the Sahel.

An Ba Fo -- A live, hour-long, weekly call-in show in which youth, politicians, government officials, activists, artists or ordinary citizens discuss local issues affecting the lives of millions of people in Mali

Djamu Kan -- An in-depth radio magazine show on specific subject matters in Mali. Interviews of experts, officials and regular citizens are weaved throughout this program, which aims to inform and educate.

Farafina Foly -- An hour-long, weekly, and interactive radio talk show airing every Wednesday, and re-aired every Saturday, Sunday and Monday. It is an entertainment and music show featuring major artists with the participation of the youth in the target countries.
